

MILOŠ OBROVAC

SOFTWARE DEVELOPER

PROFILE

I'm 26, currently living in Novi Sad, Serbia. Software development became very attractive to me as I was gradually understanding the potential for learning and enriching one's life that this field offers. I see it as a stepping stone towards fuller life. Growing market for a skill set that combines strict technical knowledge with problem solving creativity and practical functionality, team work with self-improvement, seems very suitable for my personality.

I spent several years traveling and living abroad as a volunteer, an exchange student and as a menial worker, so I'm quite used to adapting to new people and working environments.
